The check which was sought to be placed on this system of issning small notes was not altogether successful, owing to the limited supply of the 10 and 20 cents silver pieces which were to take their place. Time, and a larger supply of these small coins, will work the cure, more particularly if 5 cant pieces are largely introduced at the same time. An improved currency would go a great way towards lessening the quarrels at these periodical settlements. As matters stand there is almost authorities for the admirable order kept in the face of these and other causes of discontent-prevalent just before the China New Year.
